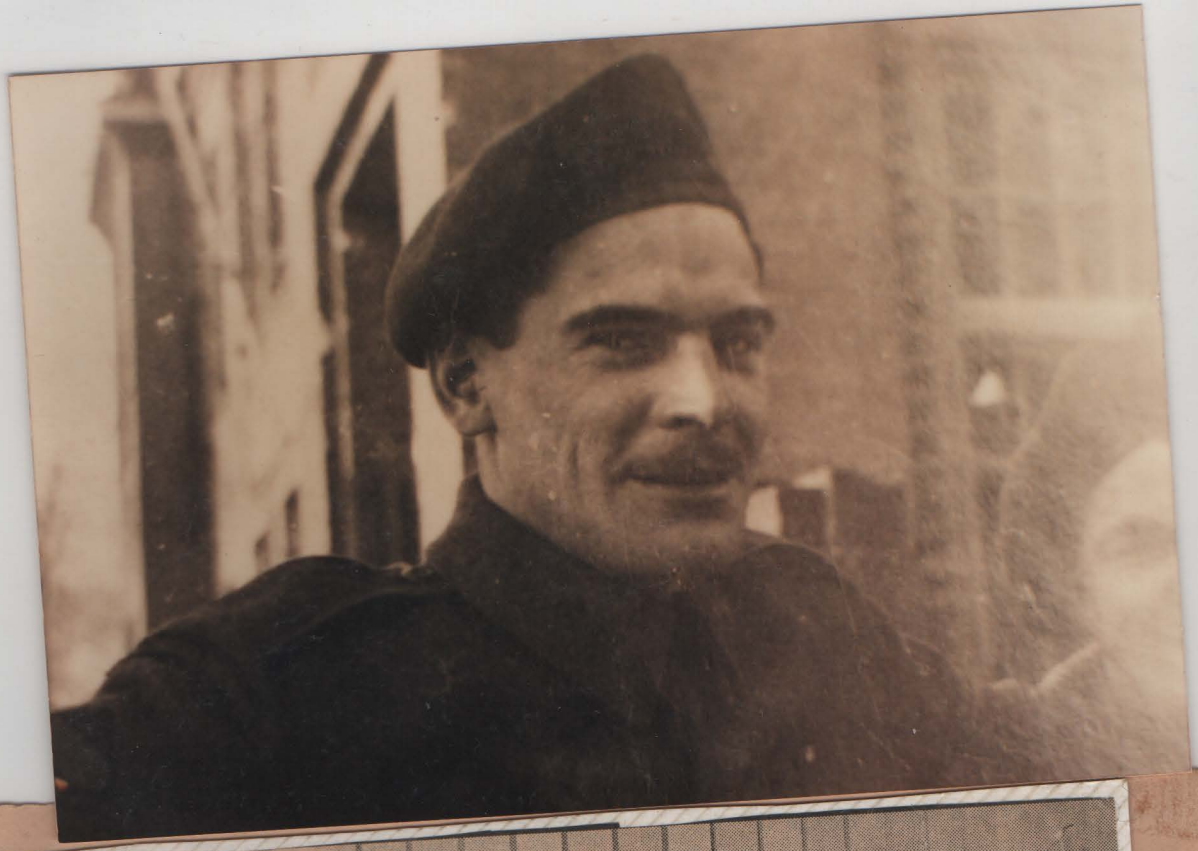
Glory days

IF THIS LOOKS like a scene from West Side Story, it's not. It's John Abbass and his brother Ferris striking a pose outside the Casino Theatre at Whitney Pier in 1940. The photo, taken by Thelma (Evans) Murphy, is on display at the Whitney Pier Historical Society Museum along with other fascinating memorabilia of the recently razed Casino and the Pier in general. The society meets next on Tuesday, Feb. 19, at 7 p.m. at the museum on 88 Mount Pleasant St. Guest speaker for the meeting will be John Hominick, who will share his experiences of a recent trip to the Soviet Union.



25th anniversary celebrated

To commemorate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Old Sydney Society, a reception was held at the Centre For Heritage and Science in the Lyceum. Sydney Mayor Manning MacDonald proclaimed the week of July 15 Sydney Museum Week. Special events will be held at each of the four museum buildings managed by the society.

Representatives from historical societies in the Industrial Cape Breton region and from the Nova Scotia Museum Complex were on hand to join the celebrations. At the event were (L—R) Redmond O'Keefe, president of the Old Sydney Society, Mayor MacDonald, Dr. Don Arseneau, chairman of the museum committee, and Ron Dipenta, president of the Whitney Pier Historical Society.
